

Privacy Statement

This Privacy Statement sets out how Yuanta Wealth Management (Singapore) Pte. Ltd. ("Yuanta", "we", "us" or "our") collects, uses, discloses and protects personal data through this website in accordance with the Singapore Personal Data Protection Act 2012 ("PDPA").

By interacting with this website and providing personal data to us, you acknowledge that you have read and understood this Privacy Statement, and have consented to our collection, use and disclosure of personal data as set out in this Privacy Statement. This consent shall be effective until we receive a written communication from you on the withdrawal of your consent.

We may amend this Privacy Statement from time to time to ensure consistency with legal and regulatory requirements. The updated version will be posted on this website.

Collection of personal data

You may browse our website without providing your personal data.

We collect personal data only where you voluntarily provide it to us, through contact forms, email communications, enquires, job applications, or other requests.

The personal data collected may include your name, email address, contact number and any other information you choose to provide. If you choose not to provide requested information, we may not be able to respond to your enquiry or process your request.

Use and disclosure of personal data

Personal data collected through this website will be used for the purposes including:

- Responding to your enquiries or requests;
- Processing your job application;
- Handling feedbacks or complaints; or
- Administrative and internal record keeping purposes.

We may disclose personal data, where necessary, to our related corporations or third-party service providers like IT and website service providers, which may be located outside Singapore, for the purposes described above. Where personal data is transferred outside Singapore, we will take reasonable steps to ensure that the data receives a standard of protection comparable to that provided under the PDPA.

We retain personal data only for as long as necessary to fulfil the purposes for which it was collected, or for our legal or business purposes, as required or permitted under applicable law.

Technical data and cookies

When you access and use this website, we may automatically collect certain technical information such as your IP address, browser type, operating system, device information and browsing activity. This information is collected for system administration, security monitoring and website analytics purposes.

Such information is generally aggregated and used for statistical analysis to help us improve the functionality, performance and security of the website. We do not use such information to identify individuals except where required or permitted under applicable law.

This website also uses cookies, small text files placed on your device, to enhance user experience and analyse website usage. Cookies may collect limited technical and usage information relating to your interaction with the website. You may manage or disable cookies through your browser settings. Disabling certain cookies may affect the functionality and performance of this website.

Your rights

Subject to applicable law, you may request to:

- Access to your personal data with us;
- Correction of inaccurate or incomplete personal data; or
- Withdrawal of consent to our collection, use or disclosure of your personal data.

Please note that withdrawing consent may affect our ability to respond to your requests.
